

YCCC Online Readiness Assessment

I have reliable consistent access to the internet (home, YCCC etc.).

I can access the internet every day, from either home or YCCC, and have back-up plans in case there is an issue.

I don't have consistent access to a computer (or it is slow or unreliable).

I know how to check my YCCC email.

I know how to log in, and I check my YCCC email regularly

I've never logged in to my YCCC email.

I retain information from reading.

I understand textbook material and can make connections to material easily.

I retain lectures and spoken material, but often forget what I've read.

When studying, I'm usually able to avoid distractions.

I'm able to focus and stay on task while studying.

I'm often distracted and have to spend accomplishing tasks and studying.

I am good at managing my time.

I easily manage a busy schedule and find time to complete all of my assignments on time.

I am pretty good at managing my time, but have asked instructors for extensions in the past.

I am comfortable setting aside "class time" and homework time for my online class.

I am comfortable with setting aside 5-8 hours per week per online class

I have a hard time fitting things in to my schedule, but since online classes can be done anytime, I think it may work for me.

I can learn in a variety of formats.

I can retain information from lectures, videos and online discussions.

I typically prefer to learn from lectures or face-to-face conversations.

There is no perfect science in determining if an online class is right for you, but this assessment will provide insight during your decision-making. If 6 or 7 of your answers are in the top row, you are probably ready for an online course. If 2 or more of your answers are in the bottom row, you may need to evaluate those areas before enrolling in an online course.
